TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

The Governor's Private Secretary and Mrs. Fulton Gordon Meet Death at the Hands of the Latter's Husband.

Arch. D. Brown and Mrs. Fulton Gordon were surprised in a house of ill repute on West Madison street, in Louisville, Tuesday morning, and both shot to death by the wronged and infuriated husband of the latter. Such, in brief, is the story of a terrible tragedy which has filled the columns of the daily press of the country this week, none of the hideous details being omitted. The tragedy is of peculiar interest in this city by reason of the fact that Arch. Brown was the oldest son and Private Secretary of the Governor of the State and Mr. Gordon and wife well known here, where he was for a time manager of the Kenyon Hotel.

The terrible ending of these two erring, sinful lives has brought a sorrow to the hearts of two devoted mothers more terrible than death itself and a blight upon the lives of scores of others, for whom the most callous hearted can feel naught but the warmest sympathy. And who is there with a spark of manhood in his breast that does not pity the unfortunate man now awaiting trial for the commission of a double crime of which no jury in this broad land would convict him, and to whom existence must henceforth be but a living hell?

The awful killing has but added another dark chapter to the history of our State, already blotted and blurred with crimes of various kinds, and can only serve as a warning to the living. Having taught its lesson, the sooner covered by the veil of forgetfulness the better.

A Quick Turn.

Henry Thompson, colored, porter for Mr. C. E. Collins, the Broadway hardware dealer, started to Bellepoint Monday morning in the delivery wagon by way of the boulevard, and when he reached the west end of the railroad bridge the horse he was driving became frightened at the switch engine, which was approaching, whirled around quickly and ran rapidly back to South Frankfort. Thompson was thrown out of the wagon and was stunned by the fall, but soon came to and started after his horse and wagon. The horse ran as far as Utterback's shop where it ran into a buggy and was stopped. Neither horse or wagon were injured.

Colored Commissioners Meet.

The Colored Commissioners for Kentucky of the Cotton States and International Exposition, which will be held in Atlanta, Ga., beginning September 18th, held a meeting in this city Saturday, at the office of Dr. Underwood. The Commission is composed of the following gentlemen: Wm. H. Steward, Chairman, Prof. C. H. Parrish, Secretary, R. L. Gilliam, Treasurer, Dr. J. C. Graves, Parkman J. Allen Ross, Jericho; Prof. C. C. Monroe, Lex-

MANUAL TRAINING.

An Essential Element of Education.

The progress of civilization has been materially advanced by the public school.

Advancing civilization increases individual wants. Increased individual wants demand an increase of power to supply those wants.

Inability to provide for one's wants makes one a dangerous obstacle to progress. Therefore, the school, having assisted in increasing individual wants, should, if possible, assist in giving its pupils an increase of power, both mental and physical, so as to enable them to supply their wants. This is a possibility when manual training enters as an element of the school course of study. This study enables the pupil, while yet in school, to meet and solve problems with which the practical life of his future years will be filled. The effect on the pupil in solving those problems gives a degree of manual skill, strengthens mind and ennobles character. These results follow because the child's whole nature, the mental and physical, is provided for.

Prof. John B. Wentz, Baltimore, Md., says: "To Baltimore is all honor due. She was the first city in the world, like Solomon, to set the artisan upon the throne. The manual training school is a people's institution. It is not the elementary bounty of some rich man wrung from the people, but it was established and is supported by the taxpayers. We have a right to be proud of a school in which the artisan is enabled to be intelligent as well as to be industrious."

Prof. J. H. Fitts, of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Blacksburg, Va., says: "Pupils have from the beginning shown much interest in their work and this interest is increasing. Our board of visitors have been liberal in making appropriations, thereby showing their confidence in its success."

Prof. LeConte, formerly of South Carolina, said: "Development is only possible through the co-operation of observing, thinking and doing, observing and doing must co-operate with thinking. Hand-work trains the brain by co-operation of the hand and eye." [Continued next week.]

Reunion of the Third Cavalry.

The following is from the Hopkinsville Banner of last week, and will be of interest to any survivor of Capt. Albert G. Bacon's company of the Third Cavalry or any other soldier of that regiment who may reside in this section:

At a called meeting, April 17th, a number of the survivors of the Third Kentucky Cavalry met in the County Judge's office in this city; the meeting was called to order by Gen. D. O'Riley, and the object of the call was explained by stating it was for the purpose of arranging for a reunion of the regiment during the National Encampment in Louisville, in September, 1895. Maj. John Breathitt was elected chairman and P. S.

Bruner, secretary. On motion, it was unanimously agreed to have the reunion. Maj. Breathitt was elected chairman of the association, Thos. E. Lawson, secretary and Lieut. M. J. Davis, treasurer, with instructions to give notice to all of the survivors of the regiment by letter or otherwise, to procure a hall in Louisville suitable for the reunion, to call on the members for such decorations as might be deemed necessary. Motion adopted requesting the Hopkinsville papers to publish the proceedings of this meeting. That the following named papers be requested to copy: Grand Army Post, Louisville, Ky., Louisville Commercial, Courier-Journal, National Tribune, Washington, D. C. The meeting then adjourned.

JOHN BREATHITT, Chairman.
P. S. BRUNER, Secretary.

Cut Flowers.

When you want cut flowers of any kind, you want them cut fresh to preserve their beauty and fragrance therefore Powers' greenhouse is the place to get them and he don't intend to be undersold by anyone in either cut flowers or plants, a full supply of plants will be kept at the store from now on and sold at prices that can't be beat.

THE NEW F. F. V. LIMITED

Commencing Sunday, May 13th, the F. F. V. Limited will leave Cincinnati daily at 12:20 noon, arriving at Washington at 7:40 a. m., Baltimore 9:00 a. m., Philadelphia 11:20 a. m. and New York 1:40 p. m. The train will consist of Composite Car, Elegant Day Coach, with Smoking Compartment, Dining Car, Pullman Sleeping Cars of the latest and most improved design, and an Observation Car. Emphasis is especially placed on the Observation Car. Built by the Pullman Company from Chesapeake and Ohio plans, the F. F. V. Observation Cars serve their purpose better than any others that have ever been constructed.

As the F. F. V. Limited is the only train having an Observation Car attached, it necessarily follows that the Chesapeake and Ohio R'y alone has scenery interesting enough to demand an Observation Car. The F. F. V. Limited is the only train running through from Cincinnati to New York that enables the business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and New York the next. It is the only train for Jersey City Coast resorts, which are reached by the F. F. V. at dinner time instead of in the evening. It is the only train that enables business men to transact business in Cincinnati one day and reach Washington for breakfast the next morning. It is the most desirable train for New England resorts, connections being made in the Union Depot in Washington with the Colonial Express running through to Boston which reaches New Haven 4:10 p. m., New London 5:30 p. m., Providence 7:15 p. m. and Boston 8:30 p. m. The F. F. V. is the only modern train lighted throughout with Electricity, carrying a Dining Car and an Observation Car.

The Washington and Atlantic Express, also an Electric Lighted Vestibuled train, will leave Cincinnati at 7:00 p. m., reaching Washington 2:40 p. m. and Old Point Comfort 6:00 p. m. Connection is made at Washington with the Boston Express or the Limited, reaching New York about 9:00 p. m. At Norfolk connection is made with the Old Dominion Steamship Line, reaching New York 3:00 p. m. the next day.

The Slave of Fashion

Is a willing captive. No wonder, when the beautiful conceits of the season are seen. The Jewelers of the world compete with each other in making the prettiest things, and we buy the nicest at low prices, because of the great competition. Don't you want a ring with diamond setting, ruby, sapphire or emerald. a watch of elegant design and regular habits attached to a golden chain, or a dainty pin. You won't have to economize to pay for them, as the price is low, too low to mention.

M. A. Selbert,

The Leading Jeweler,

233 St. Clair Street.

IF YOU KNEW
That day by day, slowly but surely you are permanently injuring your eyesight by neglecting to provide yourself with suitable glasses, wouldn't you hasten to have them examined? Perhaps you do not require glasses. Perhaps, again, if a pair were carefully adjusted to your sight now, it might save you a lifetime of regret. WE MAKE NO CHARGE FOR EXAMINATION. F. O. ZEHMANN, Graduate Optician, will be with M. A. SELBERT, the JEWELER, from May the seventh to May the seventeenth.

THE KENTUCKY MIDLAND.

To be Sold September 2d by Commissioner Posey.

Judge W. H. Holt, acting as special chancellor, took up the case of Carrick vs. The Kentucky Midland and the cases consolidated therewith Wednesday afternoon, and after hearing argument entered an order directing the road to be sold by Master Commissioner W. H. Posey on the first Monday in September, and fixed the upset price at $320,000.

Wouldn't Pay License.

A car fitted up for the purpose and filled with an exhibit of the fruits and other products of Florida and called "Florida on Wheels," was sidetracked here on Thursday and the manager opened up an exhibition, charging ten cents admission. The show had not been running long before City Marshal Jeffers called upon the gentleman in charge and notified him that if he proposed to charge an admission fee he would have to take out license, but he could run his car as a free show as long as he liked. As the almighty nicker was what the car was out after and the management did not care to contribute any of them to the city in the way of license fees, nor was there any money in a free exhibition, the car was closed for a time but was afterward opened upon Hon. Henry George paying for the license.

Republican Convention.

The Republican County Convention will meet in Sower & Ahler's Hall Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention which meets in Louisville June 5th, and will also nominate a candidate to represent this county in the next Legislature. The delegates to the County Convention were selected at precinct meetings held on Saturday last.

Matrimonial.

McCarthy-Court — Mr. Harry M. McCarthy, editor of the Jessamine Journal, and a young man well-known here where he was a resident during Gov. Knott's administration, was married on Tuesday to Miss M. Allen Young, of Fayette county. Harry's many friends here congratulate him upon having captured so fair a prize and wish him a long life of happiness.

Wanted to Rent—Typewriter.

Any person having a typewriter to rent can hear of a renter by calling at this office and stating terms.

Ready for Bathing.

Mr. Jas. A. Murray has thoroughly refitted the sulphur bath house and has leased it to Mr. J. T. Bush, who now has it open for the reception of those wishing to take a delightfully refreshing bath.

Changed the Meeting Night.

Lambert Young Council, No. 161, Y. M. I., has changed its night of meeting from Wednesday until Monday evening of each week. The members are requested to remember the change and attend promptly.

Map of the Virginia Battle Fields.

The only correct map made from official papers in the war department with complete list of battles. Sent on receipt of 25 cents in money or postage stamps. Address C. B. Ryan, Assistant General Passenger Agent, C. & O. Railway, Cincinnati, O.

New Marble Works.

Have just opened a shop on the corner of High and Main streets, where I am prepared to do all kinds of work in marble, granite and stone at the lowest prices. Give me a call.

R. J. LYNCH.

Falls of Benson.

There is much fishing at this point now. Men, women and children are all trying it. A great many are being caught.

Jesse Conway had an engagement to gallant a young lady to church last Sunday, but his horse would not go, and insisted on going home, which he did in a hurry.

There will be a magnificent show at the Chocotville academy this Saturday night of bible scenery, a grand lecture and splendid music.

Mr. Floyd Arnold escorted Miss Moore to old Bethel Church at Peak's Mill last Sunday and Harry was the last "she left behind her."

We suppose that the Rock-haven and Frankfort pike will be abandoned since its president has a free pass for life over the Devil's Hollow pike.

The regular monthly meeting at old North Benson Church will be Sunday. Spring bonnets will be exhibited in great abundance.

The cut worms are destroying all the corn, onions, &c., in this locality.

The church at Benson is looking about for a suitable piece of ground for a cemetery. The church yard is about full. We hope they may succeed.

The Devil's Hollow Turnpike Company has established a toll-gate just beyond Conway's mill and very near the house of Judge Dan Moore, who has given them a lease on a lot of ground for building a residence for the toll-gatherer. And the company has granted the judge a pass to travel the road at pleasure, which is very liberal indeed. Some parties are kicking against the additional gate, but they will soon become used to it, and all will be forgotten.

Conway's mill grinds very slowly, but surely. We hope the recent rain will accelerate its movement. The meal ground there is a very superior article. "FLICKER."

Ramblers, $100; Crescents, $40 to $70, all fitted with Rambler tires. The best.

E. J. ROBERTS Agent.

A clear, soft, rosy complexion is the desire of every lady. Why not give Johnson's Oriental Soap a trial. There is nothing to compare with it as a skin beautifier. Two cakes in a package, 25 cents. J. W. Gayle, Sole Agent.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class mailable matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, MAY 4. 1895.

Will Open Next Week.

Mr. S. T. Fortune, former agent of the Adams Express Co. in this city, and Mr. Hezekiah Jordan, of Richmond, Virginia, who have rented the north store room of the Nicol building, on South St. Clair street, have fitted it up for a first-class family grocery, are receiving their stock and expect to open up for business next week. The firm of Fortune & Jordan should do a good business in their line as both gentlemen have many friends in this community.

Celebrated Their First.

Frankfort Lodge, No. 28, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, celebrated the first anniversary of their organization on Thursday evening with addresses delivered to a large audience in the north hall of Odd Fellows Temple by Judge W. H. Holt, Past Grand Master, Dr. C. P. Meredith, of Eminence, and Hon. James Andrew Scott, of this city, followed by a dance in Weitzel's Hall, where the young people enjoyed themselves until a late hour.

Sold His Saloon.

Mr. F. J. Sutterlin has sold out his saloon business on St. Clair street to Mr. John Triplett, who will continue to run the same, while Mr. Sutterlin will give his entire attention to the manufacture of artificial ice.

Quality Corner.

The weather at present is balmy and delightfully, with welcome showers and gentle zephyrs, exhilarating sunshine, blooming flowers and twittering birds. All nature seems in harmony.

Several ladies and gentlemen from Pleasant View attended preaching at Fairview schoolhouse last Sunday.

We presume that Mr. Chas. Goins anticipates accumulating great wealth without hard labor if his success is to be judged by the trades he has made between himself and Messrs. W. O. Vaughan and Willis Quire. He is now the proud possessor of a horse with special qualities and a colt of surpassing beauty and elegance. His prosperity is beyond a doubt.

Mr. Syl. Hulett has completed his palatial residence on St. John's pike, where he will be "at home" to his friends and neighbors after this date.

Mr. Bob Quire has engaged in business with Mr. Leroy Harrod near Frankfort. Oh, how we will miss his jolly laugh and smiling face—and his darling girl—too bad, too bad.

Messrs. Harry Phillips, Elliot Goins and Will O., paid their respects to the Misses Sudduth last Sunday afternoon.

DIED—April 27th, Mrs. Harriet Moore. She was a faithful wife, a loving mother, true friend and a devoted christian. She leaves a husband and two children. Her funeral took place at Benson Church and was conducted by Rev. J. H. Burdin, after which she was laid to rest in the church yard to await the resurrection morn.

Lines composed by C. C. C. while angling at the railroad bridge:

"Than the lily, thou art fairer,
Like the stars thine eyes are bright,
Than thy voice no music rarer
And my heart, thou'st captured quite."

Then delay not, precious treasure,
Let me clasp thee to my heart,
To be near thee is such pleasure,
Where my throbbing heart can rest."

It is useless to say he never got a nibble.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

FRANKFORT, MAY 4, 1916.

Base Ball.

The first game of the season was played at Thorn Hill Park on Monday afternoon between a picked nine of this city and the Georgetown College team. No one expected the home boys to win, as they had had no team practice, but a better showing than was given was looked for from the college boys, as they had been winning games from the other State colleges for nearly a month. As it was, the only interest was to see which side could pile up the most scores on the least number of hits.

Adjudged Insane.

Mrs. Thurman, of the Bald Knob neighborhood, was brought before Judge B. G. Williams Tuesday morning on a writ of inquirendo de lunatic, when the jury adjudged her of unsound mind and ordered her to be sent to an asylum. The unfortunate lady is 37 years of age and has a large family of children. She has been insane for about six months and it has now become dangerous to keep her at home.

Jimmie Gets a Raise.

The Pension Bureau on Saturday granted an increase of pension to James McCullough—"Jimmie-the-well-Digger"—of this city. Jimmie has been drawing only six dollars a month for the past year—his pension having been granted last summer for services in the Navy under Admiral Faragut—and the increase of ten dollars a month came to him without an application having been made for it.

Please Notify Us.

Our city subscribers will please notify this office when they change their residences. The carriers can some times keep up with the movements of those on their routes but it is impossible for them to deliver the paper correctly if a subscriber moves from one part of town to another without notifying us of their new location.

Removed His Family.

W. B. Luckett, the lively man, whose child died with diphtheria a short time ago, immediately removed his family from the apartments over the office of the stable to a house out in the edge of town, and has thoroughly disinfected the apartments, so that his country customers need have no fear of putting up their stock with him. 35-1t.

DEATHS.

BROWN—The remains of Mrs. Brown, who died at Mount Eden, in Spencer county, on Wednesday, were brought here and interred in the cemetery Thursday afternoon. The deceased was the wife of Dr. G. A. D. Brown, who was a partner of Dr. S. F. Smith in this city some eight or ten years ago.

SMITH—Mrs. Sallie Smith, widow of the late Joe Smith, who was a merchant here along in the 20's, died two weeks ago at her home in Springfield, Illinois, aged 86 years. The deceased was a Miss Taylor, daughter of the Rev. Mr. Taylor, one of the early ministers of the Christian Church, and an aunt of Mr. J. W. French, of this county. She removed with her husband to Illinois about 1833.

HARVIE—Major Lewis E. Harvie died Tuesday evening at 8:10 o'clock, after an illness of about two weeks duration, in the 70th year of his age. The deceased was for many years a prominent resident of this city, a gentleman of the old school and the very soul of honor. Owning large landed interests in what is known as the Bald Knob region, he did much towards the development and improvement of that end of the county and was a public spirited citizen, ever ready to aid in enterprises having for their object the advancement of the interests of the city and county. He was a true and loyal friend, and many there are throughout the State who will regret to hear of his death. During the war he was a gallant Confederate soldier, serving from 1862 until the close of the war.

His funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from the Episcopal Church.

His older brother, Mr. John S. Harvie, is lying very ill and his death may soon follow. Having been close companions during their lives, it seems they will not be long separated in death.

Frankfort College.

Rev. F. S. Pollitt, of the M. E. Church, lectured to the students of the college yesterday (Friday). It was an able, carefully prepared address and highly appreciated by faculty and students. Other lectures will be delivered by Rev. Messrs. Cooper, Lilly, Taylor and others. Rev. Mr. Raymond, of Eminence, visited the college this week and expressed himself as greatly pleased with the work being done both by faculty and students.

Escentic Order.

Mr. W. C. Barrickman, of Louisville, has been in the city for several weeks engaged in organizing a Senate of the Ancient Escentic Order and has been so successful in that line that he expects to be able to set the Senate to work in a few days, having secured nearly enough members to entitle the new organization to a charter.

WANDERING IN EGYPT.

Rev. George Darsie's Trip of Seven Hundred Miles up the Nile.

Below we give another of Mr. Darsie's interesting letters, which seems to have been written from Cairo. Yesterday he arrived at Damascus, where he will remain until Tuesday when he will go by horse over Mt. Lebanon and source of Abana.

Our party of forty two just filled the steamer Memphis, Gaze & Sons' best boat, and owing to the lateness of the season and the daily recession of the Nile, we started the afternoon of the day we reached Cairo, Wednesday, March 13. Our haste meant the avoidance of sandbars; and yet, two or three times on the way up we ran aground, though our steamer's draught was only two feet and a half. The proposed end of our journey was the historic island of Philae, which stands just at the head of the first cataract, 580 miles above Cairo, and 730 above Alexandria. The unique and beautiful panorama began the moment our boat started. There on the left is the island of Rhoda, at the head of which the spot at which the baby Moses in his ark of bulrushes was found by Pharaoh's daughter, is still pointed out. Green are the banks on either side with fields of waving grain, while never out of view are the groves of date palms, which make a feature so essential in every Egyptian landscape. The borders of the desert on either hand are seldom missing; for the Nile valley above Cairo is a narrow valley, varying from 14 to 32 miles in width. You may think as I did, that the desert is a low, flat country, but as seen from the Nile, both the Arabian desert on the East and the Libyan on the West are always hilly and sometimes mountainous—bare, desolate, sand-colored ranges, standing out against the deep blue sky.

On, on, our little steamer carries us, seven or seven and a half miles an hour against the swift current of the river. The backward look from our boat reveals the pyramid of Cheops and its companion, which had greeted our eyes in the forenoon as we approached Cairo by rail. I had eagerly watched myself to see if the usual "thrill" would come when the pyramids first loomed up—and it did. Now as we put miles and miles between us and they follow on, and only disappear when the night settles down upon us.

Such a sunset as the first evening gave us would set an artist wild—almost wild enough to try to paint it. The transparent air, the glowing sky, the delicate, fleecy clouds, the shades of blue and purple which overcast the West, surmounting the novel and fascinating landscape below, made a scene of which I can not speak save with rapturous exclamations. And we had not fully recovered from the sunset till another view only less entrancing in the opposite heavens claimed our eyes. It was the rising of the moon, then only one day past full. How glorious it made the night! Here we are at last on the Nile under an almost cloudless sky, breathing the dry, warm, delicious air, and revelling in the brightest moon our eyes ever saw. Was not this the perfection of physical enjoyment? And yet one needs to be careful even in this land of eternal sunshine and summer. When the thermometer is capable of ranging 33 degrees in eight hours, from 48 degrees to 81 degrees, or from 59 degrees to 92 degrees; even a dry atmosphere will not prevent a cold unless you properly protect yourself. We have had but one hot night; all the others have required, as the morning came on, closed windows and warm blankets.

This Nile has from remotest times been a source of wonder to the world. And the wonder still continues. Though the double mystery of its source and of its periodical inundations is not fully solved, yet is the story of its many peculiarities still fraught with interest to the people of every land. Its waters never get entirely clear. Even now at a time approaching their lowest point, they are still clouded with the soil which makes it at its annual overflow such a source of enrichment to this whole fertile valley. The river varies in width from half to three quarters of a mile, has a fall between Assouan (just below the first cataract) and Cairo of only seven inches to the mile, and yet maintains a current as swift as the Ohio or the Missouri. It is formed by the junction of the White and Blue Niles at Khartoum, 1,800 miles above Alexandria, and it has but a single tributary, and that less than 200 miles below. How it maintains its vast volume of water through a desert region of 1,600 miles, filling the valley along its banks with green fields and luxuriant vegetation, and yet pours a great tide at last by two mouths into the Mediterranean, is a wonder hard to explain. I said in my last that Egypt is the gift of the Nile. I now say that the Nile is Egypt. There would be nothing of the land without it. When Pharaoh in his dream saw the cattle coming up out of the river. Vegetable, animal, human life, would be impossible without it. The annual inundation begins in June, reaches its highest point in September, and declines in October. The ancient Egyptians divided the year into three periods of four months each—four months inundation, four months of seed time and four months of harvest. Of course on the lands that are not overflowed, but fed by irrigation, seed time and harvest comes at least three times a year. It was interesting to see the planting of melon seed on the sand bars as we ascended. As fast as the waters decline and the bars appear in the middle of the river or along its banks, the natives make little hills and plant the seed. In from two and a half to three months they have their crop, and an abundant and delicious crop it is. We rode on our donkeys over acres and acres of the melon plants just peering above the sandy soil. We were sorry not to tarry here till melons are ripe.

One of our most amusing experiences is with donkeys and donkey boys. The donkey is a charming feature of life in Egypt. He is an easy little beast to ride—when he doesn't stumble and fling you over his head. His gaits are usually a pace and a canter, and he can take you along at a good speed and maintain it a long time, despite his diminutiveness. Some of our ladies who never rode anything before, mounted their donkeys and got along swimmingly the very first time. The donkey boy goes behind on foot to spur up your long-eared beauty with a stick when he lags, and (what to him is far more important) to make ceaseless entreaties and devise ingenious schemes for backshish. "No good donkey, no good backshish" is about the sum of their English. But you can not satisfy one of them even if you empty your purse into his hand. The noise and fury of the donkey boys with their donkeys awaiting on the bank the coming ashore of our party double discounts any representation of Bedlam I ever heard or beheld. One expects to be pulled to pieces or trampled under foot in two minutes as he enters the bustling crowd. But he soon learns that there birk is worse than their bite, and that Arab noise in general, of which you can hardly form any proper conception without hearing it yourself, means a great deal less than it seems to. Vociferation is their chief stock in trade. It was my privilege to have some very attractive donkey boys, in whom I became greatly interested, and to ride on several donkeys I should love to own. My first one was named "Camel," I suppose from his size and color; my second was called "Gazelle," from a fancied blending of grace and speed; my third "Harmachis," from his godlike dignity, I judged; my fourth "Hatasu," for pure queenliness. What an ancient beast the donkey is! As I sat upon him I thought of Abraham going with Isaac to the hill of Moriah, Balaam riding to cure Israel, the good Samaritan conveying the wounded man to the inn, and of our Savior himself, as he made his triumphal entry into Jerusalem. Egypt would be a hard place to get about in with its army of patient little donkeys to aid you. Large quantities of water fowl are seen along the Nile. Indeed they are never out of sight. We saw many flocks of the large, white-winged ibis, though we were told that the sacred ibis, so often seen on the monuments, has entirely disappeared from Egypt. The crane, pelican, stork, wild duck, snipe, sandpiper and kingfisher were among the other varieties noted. Slate colored hawks are common, both along the river and in the towns, while vultures and eagles are not unusual. In short the feathered tribes have much to do in giving sprightliness to the Nile scenery.

The island of Philae, our most Southern point, is the lowest latitude I was ever in. It was scientifically determined by the savants who accompanied the great Napoleon to Egypt in the early years of our century, to be 24 degrees, 3 minutes, 45 seconds. When night comes you instantly see the effect. Yonder is the North Star almost down to the horizon. Here in the Southern heavens shines bright Canopus, the chief star in the constellation of Argo, which you never saw before. Scorpio comes up so high that you have an unequalled view of the brilliant stars in his curving tail. While wonder of wonders, here comes into view for the first time the celebrated Southern Cross, four bright stars I had never hoped to see. True, they are a little disappointing, both because they are not as brilliant as I had supposed and because the cross seems a little far-fetched. But I remember that they are near the horizon and that they probably shape up better when they get higher in the heavens. So I content myself with saying, "I have seen the Southern Cross."

I went over from our steamer the other day to inspect a shadoof (the most ancient of irrigating machines), when I asked the fellow working it to let me raise a few buckets of water, just to see how it worked. I took hold of the well-sweep arrangement and speedily raised three of the leathern buckets full and dumped them into the ditch, to the great amusement of the stalling Arabs. The work is not hard, but it takes a slight, which lacking, causes me to bark my knuckle, spill a good part of the water, and do the work very awkwardly. None the less, the obliging fellow who gave me the privilege, did not fail to claim backshish, and to get it—half a piastre. The usual wages for a day's work at the shadoof is from two to three piastres—ten or fifteen cents; so that I increased the percentage of his wages that day very considerably, though small the sum given.

Another unique experience was to see two zoba-als—a lofty column of sand caused by a whirlwind and closely resembling a solid stone pillar 500 to 700 feet high.

On Sundays it is our custom to have either a preaching service or a voluntary social meeting, both of which, accompanied by choice music, have proved very pleasant and edifying. Henry F. Wood, of Bath, Maine, a Free Baptist, conducted the last service and gave for a theme the illustrations we have seen while in Egypt of the Bible truth and the fulfillment of the Bible prophecies. Many very telling points were brought out, among others the prophetic utterance and its fulfillment concerning the destruction of Noph or Memphis, in Jeremiah xlii: 19; the allusion to irrigation in Deuteronomy xii: 10; the certain triumph of the gospel work now progressing so favorably as foretold, Isaiah xix: 21; the evident fitness of the plague of flies described, Exodus, viii: 21 (a plague which either was never wholly removed or has since returned); and the striking correspondence in size and shape of the holy of holies in the ancient temple at Deuderah with the holy of holies in the tabernacle of Moses. It was indeed an instructive service, and I never before realized how large is the space given to Egypt in the Holy Book. I hope to richly profit by the confirmations of scripture to be traced in Egypt's many and wonderful inscriptions and monuments. But I must reserve for another letter some account of these things, and with them a description of the tombs and temples, almost without number, through which we were taken.

GEORGE DARSIE.

Deafness Can't Be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A SPLENDID FARM —AT— COMMISSIONER'S SALE!

ISHAM FAULKNER FRANKLIN CITY, COURT.
Verdict
L. J. COX, ac.

BY VIRTUE OF THE JUDGMENT RENDERED in the above cause, at the January term, 1895, I will sell at public sale, to the highest and best bidder, on MAY 6, 1895.

At the courthouse door in the city of Franklin, Ky., between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., on a credit of six, twelve and eighteen months, in equal installments, the following property, to-wit: On the north by the lands of John T. Hockersmith; on the east by Main Eickhorn creek; on the south by the lands of Samuel Martin and James Martin, heirs, latterly Steadman and Mr. Pleasant Baptist Church, and including the county road leading from Steadman's mill to Cedar Cove, and on the west by the lands formerly owned by John Mullen, deceased and ———— Chas. that is, beginning at a stone on the west bank of Main Eickhorn, corner of Samuel Martin; thence north with the meanders of said creek to the line of John T. Hockersmith; thence west and north and northwest with the line of said Hockersmith to the lands formerly owned by ———— Cheener to the county road leading from Steadman's mill to Cedar Cove, thence including said road and with the lines of John Martin, latterly Steadman, the Baptist Church and Samuel Martin to the beginning.

The land is well suited for agriculture, a description and plat of which can be seen on application to the undersigned commissioner. And will be sold as a whole and accept the bid or bids under which the greatest sum will be realized for said land, and will be sold, however, that if any one or two of the parcels will bring enough to satisfy the debt, the balance of Kentucky and Indiana, latterly the lands of Steadman and Mr. Pleasant Baptist Church, will sell tract as a whole be offered. Said lands will be sold subject to a lien for $1,500, with interest from January 2, 1895, until paid, in favor of the infant defendants in the suit.

Put money to give bond, with good and sufficient surety, bearing interest from date to have the above and effect of a receiver's bond. A lien will be recovered on the property sold until the purchase money is paid.

W. H. POSEY,
Master Commissioner.

CRUTCHER & STARKS.

Zilpah.

Very few are on the sick list. Among the number is Mrs. W. D. Duncan, who has been confined to her room for several months; also Mr. Thomas Whitman, who has consumption. The rest are convalescent.

Several dogs have been killed here this week that were bitten by maddogs.

S. N. Moore, of Jeffersonville, Indiana, was in our community visiting relatives last week.

Victor Gordon, of Franklin, was on the Ridge Sunday.

Wm. Pool, Butler Long, Jep Perkins and Mr. White, were the guests of Charles Perkins Sunday afternoon.

Willie Adler, of Finchville, and Miss Bun Roberts, of Benson, were the guests of Miss Otha Perkins Saturday.

Wm. Terhune, from near Frankfort, was on the Ridge Sunday.

Quite a number from the Ridge were visiting Sunday, among them were G. F. Moore and wife, Wilson Moore, wife and son, Pack Bright and wife and many others too numerous to mention.

Luther Harrod and Floyd Phillips, of Croppers community, were on the Ridge Saturday evening.

Jessie Phillips and wife, of Croppers, were on the Ridge Saturday evening.

Mr. Louis Lee, merchant at this place, was at Hagdad Friday.

W. S. Scroggins and son, Bernie, were in Frankfort Friday visiting Mr. Scroggins, Mrs. James Harrod, who is ill.

The latest item on the program is the uprising of the army worm which is playing sad havoc with plant beds and gardens.

I would say to my brother of Honey Suckle: "Yes they are others residing in this community beside Moores. There is an old maid; yes, and a pet dog, and neither one is named Moore. Send up your card and seek an interview."

CLOSE OBSERVER.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

FURNISHED BY GLOVER & DURETT, LOUISVILLE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 4,251 hhds., with receipts for the same period of 2,125 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 69,930 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1904 on our market to this date amount to 75,119 hhds. There was a falling off of 438 hogheads in sales this week as compared with last week and a falling off in receipts for the week of 1,028 hogheads as compared with the week previous. The tone of the market continues remarkably firm and active for the good to fine grades of burley leaf with a gradual advancing tendency. The offerings of the week included a very large per cent. of tobacco in soft condition with a considerable number of fanned hogheads. The prices for such were decidedly lower.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco 1904 crop:
 Trash (dark) damaged... $1.50 @ $2.75
 Common Colory trash... 3.00 @ 3.75
 Medium to good colory trash... 3.75 @ 5.50
 Common to good colory... 2.00 @ 4.00
 Common Colory lugs... 4.00 @ 5.50
 Medium to good colory lugs... 5.50 @ 8.50
 Common to good leaf 6.00 @ 10.00
 Medium to good leaf... 10.00 @ 15.00
 Good to fine leaf... 15.00 @ 18.00
 Select or wrapery... 18.00 @ 22.50

Poor Indeed!

The prospect of relief from drastic cathartics for persons troubled with constipation is poor indeed. True they act upon the bowels, but this they do with violence, and their operation tends to weaken the intestines, and is prejudicial to the stomach. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an excellent laxative, but it neither gives nor enforces. Furthermore, it promotes digestion and a regular action of the liver and the kidneys. It is an efficient barrier against and remedy for malarial complaints and rheumatism, and is of great benefit to the weak, nervous and aged. As a medicinal stimulant it cannot be surpassed. Physicians cordially recommend it, and its professional endorsement is fully borne out by popular experience. Appetite and sleep are both improved by this agreeable, invigorant and cathartic.
